ACW ASSIGNMENT

OVERVIEW

Academic writing is an important skill that will be useful to you throughout your academic career. It focuses on skills relating to identifying sources, using Google Scholar, writing in an academic style, and putting it all together in a coherent and cohesive piece of writing. This assignment aims to prepare you for the examination essay and requires you to read and comprehend academic material. You will also combine the research you do into one essay while adhering to the requirements and standards of academic writing.

INSTRUCTIONS

Submit a written essay based on one of the topics below and ensure you follow all the instructions.

1. Select one of these topics:
    - Excessive parental involvement can have detrimental effects on learners' academic performance.
    - Group work is more effective than individual work in educational assessments.
    - The normalisation of online betting is increasing financial harm.
    - Technological innovation is the primary driver of economic growth in developed economies.
2. Paragraph 1:
   Write an introduction for your essay. Ensure you include an extended definition for a key term from your topic that extends this definition towards your arguments. Your introduction must clearly be linked to your topic and should be limited to 80 to 100 words. You may only use 1 source in this paragraph.
3. Paragraphs 2 and 3:
   Identify two distinct arguments in support of your topic. Each argument should be encapsulated in one paragraph. You will therefore have two paragraphs with each paragraph representing an argument. Your arguments should contain proper citations and should use the articles you research instead of simply restating facts. You must have 3 separate citations with matching references that you use to support your arguments.

4. Paragraph 4:

   The last paragraph must be a conclusion. Follow the guidelines on writing a conclusion on BC Connect.
